

Le Charmel

Rosé 2018 Côtes de Provence

"Charles Master and his father, Mel Master, who also runs Tortoise Creek, scour the vineyards around Bandol for the fruit for this wine, a blend of equal parts syrah and cinsault with some mourvedre, grenache and rolle. It's as delicate as its pale pink-gold color, a subtle rose focused more on stone and herb flavors than any particular fruit. A refreshing salinity runs through it, highlighting the wine's clarity and lift, and making it terrifically easy to drink."

"Pale peachy pink. Showing a lovely, fragrant nose redolent of fresh red raspberries, this is a flavorful, nicely balanced rose of unusually good value."

Rosé 2018 Loire Valley

"Pale reddish pink. The rose from the Loire Valley is nicely aromatic, redolent of red berries and nectarine with a hint of dried herbs. We find that roses made from Cabernet Franc have an extra herbal dimension that goes beyond simpler fruitiness and makes them good food wines, and that's what Le Charmel is. Good freshness and acidity as well as deeper flavor than many of the too pale roses being sold today."

"Cabernet Franc and Gamay have produced a soft, dry wine with warm fruitiness. An attractively tangy texture gives bite to the acidity and fruitiness. Drink now."
