Zuccardi Serie A Torrontés 2021

"A fresh, zingy torrontés, showing perfumed orange zest, peaches, lychees and white blossoms. Fresh and pure on the palate with nice weight and a mineral undertone. Quite fragrant, yet serious, too. Drink now."

Zuccardi Serie A Malbec 2020

"As I saw in the Bonarda from this year, there is less perfect ripeness and the wine shows a little more rusticity within the gentle profile of the grape. This is their entry-level Malbec, excellent for the price."

90+pts Wine Advocate 03/21

"Fruity aromas of black berries and black cherry. Good intensity of black fruit on the palate, with smooth tannins balanced by some savoury grip. Partial ageing in French oak lends hints of leather and spice to the finish. Great with steak. A well-made wine that consistently over-delivers for the price."

90pts Decanter 04 /22

2021 "Fresh black cherries and blueberries with some violets and dried herbs. A medium-to full-bodied malbec that is all about primary fruit and some raw spice. Not a flattering wine, but rather pure and nervy with fresh, linear acidity and calculated tannins. Drink or hold."

Zuccardi Serie A Bonarda 2020

"There's even more juiciness in the 2020 Serie A Bonarda than in the 2019, always being careful to avoid over-ripeness. This has some more tannin in this generous vintage, more like 2017 than 2018. There are plenty of aromatic herbs, and the wine feels very young. Drink 2021-2023."

Zuccardi Q wines are of the highest quality, made from the oldest vines, of up to 40 years of age, under supervision of a specialized viticultural team (that actually marks the individual vines destined for this line with a 'Q' for 'Quality'). These wines see 10 – 16 months in oak and are only made in vintages of exceptional quality.

Legacy & Future Vintages

Zuccardi Q Chardonnay 2020

"The 2020 Chardonnay Zuccardi Q comes from Tupungato and is half aged in 500-liter barrels, the other half in concrete. Yellow with a golden sheen. The aromas begin with hazelnut and lees followed by stewed peach. Austere and saline in the mouth with tension and just a touch of fat; yeast aromas appear toward the end. A modern, Burgundy-oriented wine."

91pts Vinous 06/21

"There's a little more ripeness in the 2020 Q Chardonnay, which comes from a warmer vintage. It has aromas of yellow fruit and a rounder mouthfeel, still serious and austere but a little gentler and more approachable when compared with the surprising 2019. It still has moderate alcohol and very good freshness."

91pts Wine Advocate 03/21

92pts James Suckling '21

2021 "Creamy nose with some smoke, green-apple and lemon aromas. A textured chardonnay with fresh acidity and brightness to the fruit. Drink now."

Zuccardi Q Malbec 2020

"The 2020 Malbec Zuccardi Q is a blend of grapes from Los Chacayes and Paraje Altamira, Uco Valley and was 30% aged in French oak in 12 months. The attractively fruity nose features fresh plum and blackberry with herbal hints that enhance the fruit even further. In the mouth, it has good energy and freshness, a restrained flow and diaphanous, fruity flavors with finely grained tannins and a juicy finish. A modern, youthful bundle of flavor with notable freshness given the year."

2021 "It has notes of some blue fruit, aromatic herbs and a citrus twist, reminiscent of green tea. It is floral, expressive, perfumed and fine-boned, with a medium-bodied palate where the tannins are fine and there's some grip. 2022-2028."

97pts, Platinum Decanter WWA 2022

"Shows good depth of black cherries, scented violets, dried herbs, black licorice and cloves. A full-bodied malbec that shows tension on the palate, with fresh acidity and lots of dusty tannins. Nervy and nicely austere with a chalky finish. 85% malbec and 15% cabernet franc. Drink or hold."

Zuccardi Concreto Malbec 2020

"A bright, rich purple in the glass. The initially reductive nose delivers pure fruit flavors of ripe plum and blackberry before opening out into sweet and sour cherry with hints of herbs. Makes a broad entrance before the mild flow and juicy freshness, while the variety's sweet tannins join forces with the gentle chalk to produce a pleasant, compact feel. The warm year accounts for a good measure of the structure and volume, resulting in a long-lasting, juicy and flavorful wine."

94pts Vinous 11/21

95pts James Suckling '21 | 94+pts Wine Advocate 11/22

2021 "The 2021 Concreto Malbec has to be one of the finest vintages of this wine despite its youth and still shy personality. But there are tons of flowers, wild herbs and berries there waiting to emerge in an insinuating way, with austerity but unfurling layers and layers as the wine sits in the glass. It's incredibly fine-boned with chalky tannins that scream limestone, full of precision and purity. Drink 2023-2030."

José Zuccardi 2015

"Sebastian Zuccardi makes this cuvee to honor the style his father, Jose, developed in the early 2000s. Malbec grown in Altamira provides the lush, powerful fruit of the wine while a small addition of cabernet sauvignon adds notes of fir tree and pencil lead. It feels generous and regal, structured by mineral tannins, with a hint of spicy alcohol adding extra force. This is built for a thick-cut grass-fed steak."

José Zuccardi 2016

"There are herbal notes reminiscent of green tea leaves, spices and berries. The palate is serious and has chalky tannins, as they select grapes from places in the Valle de Uco that have limestone soils. It seems like they have found the way ahead for this wine in 2016; it's fine, precise and elegant."

Zuccardi Botanico Chardonnay 2021

"The new white 2021 Botánico comes from their two vineyards in the Monasterio part of Gualtallary, the informal division of the zone (still not approved due to bureaucratic problems with the name), and is a lieu-dit or paraje wine. This is very austere, sharp and mineral, reminiscent of a Chablis. This was harvested very early, almost one month earlier than the Fósil from San Pablo, as Gualtallary ripens earlier. It fermented and matured 70% in concrete eggs and 30% in used 500-liter oak barrels; but there is no aromatic or flavor influence from the oak, as they want to keep the wine as transparent as possible with the character from the soils—limestone and caliche calcareous stone. This has 13% alcohol, a pH of 3.23 and 7.36 grams of acidity. It's clean, precise, subtle, elegant, transparent, balanced and symmetric, with purity and clarity. It has a shaper palate with effervescent sensation of chalk with lemon juice, with lots of energy. This should develop nicely in bottle. I'd like to have a time machine to see what this does at age 15...Drink Date: 2022 - 2029."

97pts Wine Advocate 11/22

UPC# 0 89832 92289 6

Zuccardi Fósil Chardonnay 2021

"The 2021 Chardonnay Fósil from San Pablo, Uco Valley was 30% aged in 500-liter barrels, the rest in concrete. Yellow in the glass. The nose offers notes of linden blossom, apple, country herbs and a hint of huacatay, a mountain herb. Dry in the mouth with a chalky feel and expansive freshness that brings nuance and depth; the flow is ethereal and saline while the finish lingers at leisure. The conditions that year really helped to dial up the quality, surpassing previous vintages. A complex, refined expression, tight like the best bands and continuing the austere spirit with which Fósil made its name."

95pts James Suckling '22 | 96pts Wine Advocate 11/22

Zuccardi Poligonos is a selection that expresses the particular characteristics of different terroirs within the Valley. These are wines from a selection of vineyards that account for the differences in altitude, soil and climate that currently characterize the subregions of San Pablo, Paraje Altamira and Tupungato.

Legacy & Future Vintages

Poligonos San Pablo Verdejo 2021

"Green gooseberries, green mangos and a mineral edge. Very pure and bright with fresh acidity. Crisp texture without being sharp. So drinkable. Drink now."

92pts James Suckling 03/22

Poligonos San Pablo Albariño 2022

"This is the second vintage of albariño for the Poligonos line, and it comes from the vineyards that the Zuccardi family planted in 2013 in the San Pablo zone, up against the first mountain chains of the Andes, about 1,400 meters above sea level. This is totally marked by citrusy, juicy acidity that funnels freshness to this albariño from the mountains, a place that's not at all common in a variety that always faces the sea. Here there are herbs, ripe white fruits, and a lot of freshness."

Poligonos Tupungato Semillon 2022

"Fine and creamy with a flinty tang to the lemony citrus. Really juicy and bright on the palate. Bone dry and succulent with a mouthwatering finish. Fermented in 500-liter oak barrels and foudre. Drink now."

94pts James Suckling 02/23

"This is a serious wine; it's not a very aromatic variety, but it's very textured, with moderate alcohol and a sharp profile. It's about texture and mouthfeel with stuffing, freshness and balance to develop nicely in bottle Drink 2023-2028."

Poligonos San Pablo Cabernet Franc 2019

"There was an acute note of freshly cracked black peppercorns in the nose of the 2019 Poligonos San Pablo Cabernet Franc, which matured in foudre. They use oak for Cabernet Franc, which they feel needs more oxygen than the Malbec, which matures in concrete. The grape is very transparent to the place, despite being a very aromatic and recognizable variety. It has a very fine thread, refined tannins and a lack of fruit, with dry flowers. This is from a place where they struggle to ripen the variety, and the wine is always sharp."

2020 "The 2020 Cabernet Franc Poligonos Del Valle De Uco San Pablo was aged for 10 months in French oak. Bright purple in hue. The heart of the nose is herbal with gentle notes of jalapeño and mint. Continuing on the nose, clear fruity aromas spring forward including fresh plum and cherry. Flavorful in the mouth, the palate is energized by the freshness with fine tannins that grow juicier well into the aftertaste. A pure, raw red with a captivating profile."

"The 2020 Malbec Poligonos Del Valle De Uco Gualtallary was aged in concrete. A dark, bright purple in hue. The liqueur-inflected nose offers ripe notes of plum and blackberry with subtle hints of violet. Zuccardi Aluvional La Consulta Malbec 2013

"This has a perfume of violets, aromatic herbs and the blue fruit (if I had to single out one fruit here it would be blueberry) that I'm finding in so many of Zuccardi's wines. They used 30% whole clusters (which they believe provides freshness). Despite being ripe, powerful and concentrated, it's much more elegant and refined than the powerful wines most people associate with La Consulta."

Zuccardi Aluvional Paraje Altamira 2018

"I loved the 2018 Aluvional Paraje Altamira at first sight. There's a bit more of everything, more aromatic complexity, more flavor and definitely a lot more minerality in the texture and more finesse. They have removed the fat in the Aluvional range; the wines reflect the soils, and in vintages like 2018, there is a jump in precision and expression. There is texture, salinity, austerity and a long-lasting finish, something not easy to achieve with Malbec. Some 70% of the volume matured in concrete and the rest in used 500-liter oak barrels. This is superb... It should develop nicely and for a long time in bottle."

"Oak and sweetness have disappeared completely from the Aluvional range, and the wines reflect the place a bit more—the direction in which they have been working, especially since 2013/2014. Zuccardi Aluvional Gualtallary Malbec 2013

"This wine has notes of plums, dark cherries, but somehow the nose lacks the vibrancy of some of its siblings. It's all relative, of course, as there are plenty of violets and aromatic herbs here. As with all the wines, there is no trace of oak. The palate is juicy, with very fine tannins and ripe, supple fruit, and moderate acidity."

92+pts Vinous 07/17 | 91pts Wine Spectator 11/16 | 96pts Tim Atkin

2018 "The intense and high-pitched 2018 Aluvional Gualtallary has finesse, which is the challenge in this very wild zone of the Valle de Uco. This is a powerful zone because of the light and the cold nights, which make it difficult to achieve elegance in the wines, but they have worked in this direction. As with other 2018s, the aromas and flavors are fully developed, so there's more complexity, nuance and depth than in the 2017s, which ripened faster and earlier. A superb mineral Gualtallary with contained ripeness and wildness."

Zuccardi Finca The term Finca determines a specific place, a small plot of unique features. (micro-region or plot).

Zuccardi Finca Los Membrillos 2013

"The wine has very good freshness with fine tannins coating a fine thread of lively acidity. It has classic aromas of the oak-aged Cabernet, quite different from the Malbecs, mint, damsons, blackberries, something earthy, graphite even, cigar box and spices, and with the telltale tannins of the variety where the earthiness is more pronounced. This will be better with a little bit of time in bottle."

94pts Wine Advocate 08/15

92pts Wine Spectator 2016

2017

"The profound nose delivers notes of black currant, mint and fine wood such as cedar, as well as hints of caramel, pyrazine, white pepper and nutmeg. Attractive and complex, in the mouth it is juicy with a structure maintained by the wood. A potent, energetic wine for the region, achieving a sustained but measured tension. Firm and rich on the palate, this is an exemplary Uco Valley Cab."

Zuccardi Finca Las Cerrilladas 2019

"A new red in the "Fincas" single-vineyard range, the 2019 Finca Las Cerrilladas was produced with grapes from Gualtallary and is an intense and aromatic red with the wild profile from Gualtallary. It has 14.5% alcohol and is ripe and juicy, with very good acidity and freshness. It seems to me like there's more consistency in Gualtallary than in Altamira. They have 25 to 30 plots on the property, different soils and exposures, different ways of pruning, too; they deconstruct the property, vinifying everything separately, and then they build the wine through blending, like they do for all the Finca wines. Like the rest of their bottlings, they only use concrete and indigenous yeasts for the fermentation and aging of the wine, but here they use less full clusters, perhaps between 30% to 50%. There's a different tactile sensation from Altamira, and this is firmer, with more severe tannins. Here, the challenge is to avoid over-ripeness, and they have managed nicely. Drink Date: 2024 - 2032."

98pts Wine Advocate 08/15

"This is the first commercial vintage of this wine from Zuccardi's own vineyards, planted in 2014 in the Lomas del Jaboncillo zone, in what is known as Monasterio, in Gualtallary. It comes from calcium-rich soils mixed with clay that makes them look pinkish. Fermented in concrete and then aged in the same vessels for a year, this has all the tension of wines grown on limestone, the mouth-filling black fruits, the sensation of light that comes from the acidity amid those dense flavors. A deep and intense look at Gualtallary."

Zuccardi Finca The term Finca determines a specific place, a small plot of unique features. (micro-region or plot).

Zuccardi Finca Piedra Infinita 2017

"This is very intense with blackberry and blueberry character, as well as hot stones and granite. Full body. Chewy tannins fan out across the palate. A serious, powerful wine. Needs at least four or five years to soften. Impressive. Try in 2025."

97pts James Suckling '20

"They use some specific soils for the 2017 Finca Piedra Infinita, up to eight different plots, but not all plots contribute to the wine every vintage; in general, the zones with 20 to 60 centimeters of soil and then large stones with calcium carbonate are reflected in the wines. So, they deconstruct the vineyard, and then they build the blend with the plots they like for each wine, up to eight here. There's a little more ripeness and exuberance here within the general austerity of the whole Piedra Infinita range, especially when compared with the 2018s. They harvested 15 to 20 days earlier than in 2018 (or in 2016) and they had to run, but the separation they have by soil helped them to harvest earlier the earlier-ripening parts of the vineyard. That gave them a great advantage and they produced very good 2017s, but the condition of the year, a shorter cycle and a more hurried year was what it was. This 2017 is not as long as the 2018, and there is a strong chalkiness in the finish. Drink 2021 - 2028."

98pts Wine Advocate 03/21

"A Malbec from Paraje Altamira, the grapes selected from vines growing in eight different types of soil at the Finca Piedra Infinita vineyard before half of them were aged in used barrels for 12 months. The measured nose offers an herb, violet and lavender core from which blackberry subsequently emerges. Makes a big entrance with energy and juice before ceding the impetus to a chalkiness that turns the spotlight on the texture sustained by a flavor-enhancing salinity. A long-lasting, profoundly layered wine. 2020 - 2032."

96pts Vinous 10/20

2018 "There is a reductive character in the 2018 Finca Piedra Infinita that I also found in the Finca Piedra Infinita Gravascal. There is also a big connection with the 2016, more than with the 2017. There is tension and crunchiness here, and the finish is very mineral, dry and chalky but coupled with deep flavors. The wine feels very young and with huge potential to develop in bottle. The symmetry of the cooler vintages in this bottling is here: there's precision, detail and nuance. There's purity and restraint and great harmony. There is energy and light, power and balance. This is as good as it gets. Drink 2022 - 2035."

99pts Wine Advocate 03/21

"Aromas of crushed fruit with mushrooms, dried flowers, ash, charcoal, iodine and bark, following through to a full-bodied palate with superb depth of fruit and layers of polished, fine tannins. Extremely long and seamless. A beauty by all accounts. Complex. Juicy. Supple. Better after 2023, when it will give you all it has stored up in goodness, character and uniqueness."

99pts James Suckling '21

98pts Tim Atkin '21

2019 "Quiet complexity that needs time in the glass. While it is brooding and deep, there is also a perfumed, floral and herbal aspect that makes it so attractive and unforgettable, even at such an embryonic stage. Freshly crushed blueberries, dried licorice, decadent violets, crushed stones and ash on the nose. Satin-textured tannins on the palate, which are tense, chalky and seamless. Powerful and juicy with impeccable balance. A great, cerebral and intrinsic malbec from Argentina. You can drink now, if you want, but it is a wine that you'd want to keep for the next two decades. A real charmer, especially for the wine nerds. Buy this and try!"

ZUCCARDI
VALLE DE UCO

At Zuccardi Valle de Uco, when it comes to producing world class Argentine wine, their philosophy is simple. As José Zuccardi puts it, "The word 'family' is central." Third generation family-owner, Sebastian Zuccardi brings a new determination to explore Argentina's many microclimates and soils.

Zuccardi Finca Piedra Infinita Gravascal & Supercal Sebastián Zuccardi describes the Supercal and Gravascal bottlings as his lieu-dit wines from the Finca Piedra Infinita estate, noting that they are in a stricter style than the Infinita blend and even "a bit unbalanced and extreme early on in terms of their texture."

Legacy & Future Vintages

Zuccardi Finca Piedra Infinita Gravascal 2019

"What a nose! Complex and brooding, yet subtle and layered. The array of aromas range from scented violets and blueberries to dried herbs and minerals. Full-bodied with racy dark cherries and blueberries on the palate. Incredibly zingy and fresh, coated by a plethora of fine, polished tannins that dissipate into the fruit. That said, this is quite assertive. Chalky finish. Long and intellectual. A little more expressive than the powerful Supercal. Drinkable now, but it will reward patience over the next decade."

Zuccardi Finca Piedra Infinita Supercal 2019

"I'm splitting hairs here, because the level is so high in the Malbecs from the Piedra Infinita vineyard that it's difficult to say, but the coup de coeur is the 2019 Finca Piedra Infinita Supercal, the single-plot bottling from the shallower soils with lots of rocks covered in calcium carbonate (hence the name: "superlime"). In a cooler year like 2019, this wine achieved a level of precision, austerity, elegance and balance that is amazing. The wine floats in the mouth, with an ethereal quality but with the clout and power from the place. The wine is juicy and fresh with a saline twist in the finish. This is approachable now because of its gobsmacking balance and elegance, but it has all the components and the balance between them to age for a long time in bottle. Bravo! 1,400 bottles were filled in June 2020. They told me that it's always a challenge to decide the picking date for this plot, and they feel they hit the bull's eye in 2019. And rightly so. Drink Date: 2023 - 2035."

Zuccardi Sparkling

Zuccardi Blanc de Blancs 2018

"The 2018 Blanc de Blancs Chardonnay from Tupungato was made using the champenoise method and spent 48 months on lees. Yellow in the glass. The nose presents pastry notes along with toast, hazelnuts and a layer of herbs over a bed of apple. Expansive in the mouth with elegant bubbles, keen freshness and a malic profile. Loud and clear apple flavors are kept going by the precise acidity."
