

A PIONEER OF THE LOLOL VALLEY

After lengthy research in several regions of Chile, Bordeaux Wine Grower François Lurton planted his vineyard on virgin terroir, with poor soil and a healthy, balanced climate: the Lolol Valley. A pioneer in this valley, he created its first bodega. Drawing on expertise acquired in vineyards and wineries all over the world and using environmentally-friendly (biodynamic) methods, he has produced remarkable wines.

THE LOLOL VALLEY

The choice of the Lolol Valley proved to be judicious, thanks to the weather conditions and the granite schist terroir. This touched subregion of the famous Colchagua Valley was perfect for implementing biodynamic winemaking methods and making remarkable wine. The property lies in an east-west valley that receives cold air from the Pacific Ocean. The temperature difference between the sea and the land causes a white mist, the "Humo Blanco," which is visible every morning just above our vines. It marks the border of our vineyard.

"We decided to try the biodynamic approach at the Hacienda Araucano vineyard because we knew that such a natural method of production was good for the environment, better for consumers, and would ultimately be reflected in the wines."

THE RANGES

HUMO BLANCO

Sauvignon Blanc, Pinot Noir, Carmenera, Cabernet Franc, Cabernet Sauvignon
Since it has been planted, our vineyard has followed the rules of organic wine-growing. We have worked even harder over the past three years to convince our partnering vineyards to follow our path. Estate Grown. Certified Biodynamic & Organic.

L'ATELIER

Syrah-Viognier, Naranja, Carmenera, Pet Nat
L'Atelier (the workshop) is the physical space where artists give free rein to their creativity and experimentation, working with great dedication on their works. Following this concept, the "L'Atelier" range is born, with a series of challenging, ecological and small-scale wines, which try to break preconceptions and to explore new oenological horizons.
