DOMAINE

Dating back to the late 17th and early 18th centuries, Domaine Jean-Ernest Descombes is one of Morgon's most historic estates and is owned by the Descombes-Savoye family. Jean-Ernest Descombes was one of Beaujolais' most respected winemakers, renowned for his charismatic personality, exceptional winemaking, and dedication to promoting the Morgon cru. His vineyards, many over 50 years old, were planted in some of the appellation's finest terroirs, earning the estate widespread acclaim. Following his passing in 1993, his daughter Nicole continued his legacy with the same passion and commitment to quality. The domaine has partnered with Georges Duboeuf for more than 60 years.

at the heart of the Morgon appellation. Planted on deep, well-drained shale soils rich in iron oxide, this exceptional terroir provides ideal conditions for Gamay to achieve optimal ripeness, concentration, and complexity.

Winemaking: Produced using traditional Beaujolais Winemaking, the wine ferments at 82-86°F (28-30°C) and undergoes a 10-12 day maceration. It is then aged in concrete tanks to preserve freshness, purity of fruit, and the distinctive expression of the Côte du Py terroir.
